Impact Report 2024

Welcome

Dear Friends,

As we close out another year, I'm thrilled to share some exciting updates about Clove Alliance. This year marked my 10th anniversary with the agency, and it's been an incredible journey. Together, we've launched a three-year strategic plan to guide our growth and ensure we continue to provide the best possible services to our community.

One of our most significant achievements this year has been the introduction of Buckeye, our therapy dog. Buckeye has been a source of comfort and support for survivors, helping them to heal and feel safe. Additionally, we're celebrating a major milestone: increased state funding for the first time in 20 years! This funding has enabled us to expand our programs and to support and retain our passionate staff.

I'm incredibly grateful for the unwavering support and generosity of our community. Your contributions have made a profound difference in the lives of countless individuals. Thank you for being a part of our mission to provide hope, healing, and justice for survivors of sexual violence.

Tracey Noe-Slach, CEO

Inspiring change and empowering survivors to build a more resilient community

Clove Alliance supported 983 survivors and their loved ones through advocacy, counseling, legal services, and crisis support.

Our Mission

We provide hope and healing to survivors of sexual violence by improving the quality of services for survivors, assisting in their recovery, and working towards the elimination of sexual violence.

Thank You, Volunteers!

Our work would not be possible without the support of our dedicated volunteers. Volunteers provide assistance to hotline crisis calls, provide medical advocacy services at local hospitals, assist at agency events, and support in-office projects. We are so grateful for all of our volunteers, but we want to especially recognize our volunteers who went above and beyond in supporting survivors of sexual violence during the past year.

Our Impact

We are honored to be able to provide high-quality services when they are needed the most. Below is a powerful testimony from one of our clients, sharing her experience at our agency:

“ Thank you to the men and women who provide services to the victims and their families during such a stressful time. Thank you for being so kind and compassionate and reminding us what happened wasn't our fault. Thank you for being decent human beings in a broken world.”

Financials

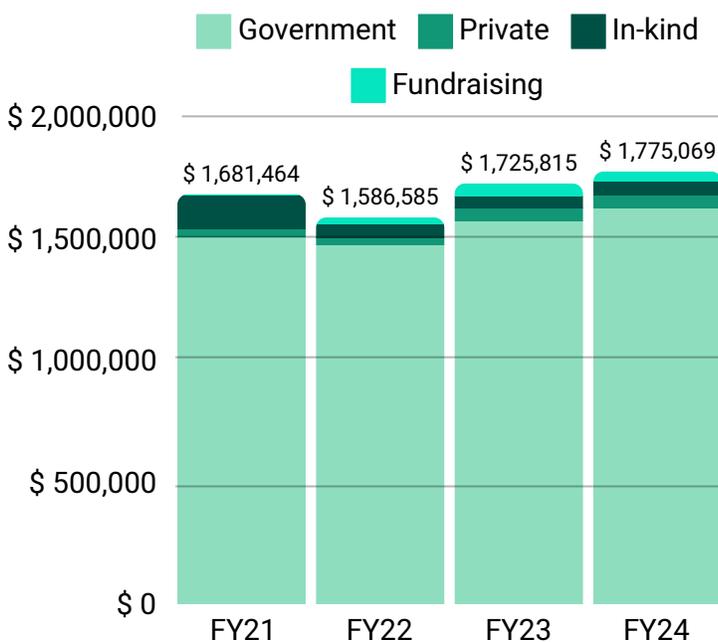

This page includes Clove Alliance’s Fiscal Annual Report for Fiscal Year 2024, ending June 30, 2024. As the Chief Financial Officer of Clove Alliance, I am pleased to present our financial report, which highlights the significant role that generous contributions have played in advancing our mission. These donations have enabled us to expand vital services, enhance our outreach efforts, and support our advocacy for systemic change across Kankakee, Iroquois, and Ford Counties. This report not only provides an overview of our financial performance but also demonstrates the lasting impact of your support on the lives of survivors, helping them on their path to recovery. We extend our heartfelt thanks to our dedicated staff, volunteers, donors, and partners for their continued commitment to our work and our shared vision of a world free from sexual violence.

2024 Highlights

Commitment in Action

At the start of 2024, we launched our new strategic plan. It is a blueprint that charts our course through 2026 with clarity, purpose, and determination. The main milestones on this journey are to strengthen our team, spread our reach further, and better serve communities that are often overlooked. Read about each goal, the objectives, and the activities planned for each here in our fully detailed plan.

Making Voices Heard

$20 million in much-needed funding for sexual assault crisis services was won in this year's IL state budget. Staff visited our capital, talked with legislators about the importance of our services, and spoke at rallies to motivate action. Our efforts were successful and we thank everyone who contacted their lawmakers (maybe that's you!) because securing these funds was critical to supporting survivors in our area and throughout the state. You can learn more about the need for funds here.

Welcome, Buckeye!

We're excited to have certified therapy dog, Buckeye, on board as a comfort to survivors seeking help. He is a friendly, well-trained Goldendoodle who thrives on offering emotional support. His presence can aid in creating a safe and calming environment, making it easier for survivors to open up. Buckeye is a great complement to our advocacy and counseling services. You may even see him at community events—make sure to say hi! Learn about our furry teammate here.

With Your Support

As a nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting survivors of sexual violence, we rely on the generosity of individuals, foundations, and corporations to sustain and expand our vital services. Your financial support enables us to provide emergency assistance, counseling, advocacy, and prevention programs that empower survivors on their path to healing. With your help, we can continue to make a meaningful difference in the lives of those who need it most. We invite you to join us in this important work and invest in a future where all individuals are free from the trauma of sexual violence.

Will you support survivors and our mission? There are many ways to get involved!

Volunteer

Clove Alliance volunteers strengthen our efforts through a variety of roles. They are ambassadors of hope and healing in our community!

Donate

Donating supports survivors as they heal, helps Clove Alliance provide high-quality services, and bolsters our prevention work. It's all highlighted in this report! Click "donate" or scan the QR code to give today.

Attend Events

Joining us for awareness and fundraising events is a great way to show your support, get involved, and meet other people passionate about ending sexual violence.
